

Alipay Europe Consumer Account User Terms and Conditions

(September 2021)

These Terms and Condition govern your access and use of the Alipay Account. The Alipay Account is an account with Alipay (Europe) Limited, S.A. (“Alipay”) which allows you to benefit from card binding services. For the avoidance of doubt, this does not constitute a payment account or electronic money account. You need an account with the Platform Operator Website (“AliExpress Account”) and need to be a resident in the European Economic Area in order to open, access, use and maintain an Alipay Account. By activating an Alipay Account, you agree to the present terms and conditions. To the extent there is any duplication or conflict with terms under the Alipay Service Agreement (available at <https://render.alipay.com/p/f/agreementpages/alipayserviceagreement.html>), the provisions in these Terms and Conditions shall prevail. Alipay will be providing only card binding services (i.e. data storage services) to you under the present terms and conditions. No regulated payment service or electronic money related service will be provided to you by Alipay at this stage.

1. PROVISION OF CARD BINDING SERVICE (DATA STORAGE)

Where you have an Alipay Account you have the possibility to link a payment instrument to such account (i.e. to register information on payment instruments provided by third party payment service providers to you such as your debit card or credit card), to facilitate your transactions on the Platform Operator Website.

Such registration is independent of the activation of an Alipay wallet (which is a separate product offered by Alipay and subject to separate terms and conditions) and Alipay would in this context only provide data storage services to you by storing your linked debit card or credit card data (and for the avoidance of doubt Alipay would not provide any payment services, nor electronic money related services or any other financial services).

The linking of a payment instrument to your Alipay Account helps to facilitate future payments as you do not have to re-enter your payment data each time you purchase a good or service via your AliExpress Account if you use the same payment instrument, subject to normal security checks. Such future payments will be executed by the issuer of your linked debit card or credit card and not by Alipay, who will only store data on such cards for facilitation purposes as explained above.

We require you to provide us with accurate and complete information when registering for or using the card binding service. You agree to keep this information up-to-date at all times to ensure its completeness and accuracy. We may request additional information or documentation from you for the provision of the card binding service. You agree that you will provide such information or documentation promptly to us upon request. If you do not provide such information or documentation promptly, we may impose restrictions on your use of the card binding service or terminate it.

2. USE OF PERSONAL DATA

Alipay will collect, process, store and use your card data and any other personal data we may collect solely in accordance with the privacy policy and in accordance with applicable European and national data protection law. Details can be found in Alipay's privacy policy at <https://global.alipay.com/docs/ac/Platform/hi1wau#wbrLk> (the "Privacy Notice").

3. CONSENT TO TRANSFER FOR PROFESSIONAL SECRECY PURPOSES

3.1 In relation to professional secrecy obligations applicable to us arising under the Payment Services Law, you expressly authorise and instruct Alipay to transfer any data regarding yourself, including but not limited to your card details or other information on your Alipay Account, to other members of the Alipay Group and third parties based in China, Singapore, the United States or other countries in which members of the Alipay Group or the relevant third parties are established, in the context of outsourcing arrangements linked to various operational and technical functions of the services provided hereunder.

3.2 The transfers referred to in Clause 3.1 shall be carried out at all times in accordance with the Privacy Notice. For the avoidance of doubt, the consent requested under this Clause 3 is intended for financial regulatory purposes only and does not constitute the legal basis for the transfer of your personal data under the Privacy Notice.

4. FEES

4.1 We do not currently charge any fees relating to your Alipay Account.

5. CLOSURE OF YOUR ALIPAY ACCOUNT

5.1 You may request that we close your Alipay Account and that we terminate the provision of the card binding services to you at any time by contacting our customer support team or in any other way that we may make available to you from time to time. The customer support team is available through the 'help centre' on the Platform Operator Website.

5.2 If you request a deletion of your AliExpress Account or if you delete your AliExpress Account, such request or deletion shall also constitute a request to close your Alipay Account and to terminate our provision of the card binding services to you.

6. AMENDMENTS

6.1 We may make changes to these Terms and Conditions in the event of changes in legal or regulatory provisions or in case law, changes in market practice or market conditions, changes to the functionality of your Alipay Account, changes to the business requirements of Alipay or to ensure compliance with applicable law or regulation, by posting an updated version on the Platform Operator Website or communicating with you in this respect via other channels.
